What is Administrative Law?

Administrative law is a specialized field within public law that oversees the functioning of government agencies, public officials, and administrative procedures. It ensures that administrative actions are carried out legally, fairly, and transparently. In the context of Bangladesh, administrative law governs a broad spectrum of activities, including the issuance of licenses, permits, and sanctions; administrative hearings; disciplinary actions against public servants; and judicial review of administrative decisions. It acts as a check on the arbitrary use of power, ensuring that government actions align with constitutional and statutory provisions.

Historical Development of Administrative Law in Bangladesh

- Codification of Administrative Procedures: Efforts to formalize administrative procedures, such as the Bangladesh Administrative Tribunal Rules, aimed at enhancing transparency and accountability.

Over time, Bangladesh's administrative law has been shaped by constitutional mandates, statutory provisions, and judicial interpretations, balancing governmental authority with individual rights.

The Constitutional Foundations of Administrative Law in Bangladesh

The Constitution of Bangladesh provides the primary legal foundation for administrative law, embedding core principles that guide administrative conduct.

Key constitutional provisions include:
