The Psychology Behind Distraction

Several psychological factors contribute to mental distraction:

- Intrinsic Thinking: Our brains are naturally inclined to reflect on personal matters, memories, or future plans.
- Emotional Triggers: Certain topics or thoughts (e.g., about Ben) evoke strong emotions that divert attention.
- Stress and Anxiety: When overwhelmed, our minds tend to drift away as a coping mechanism.
- Attention Fatigue: Constant multitasking reduces our capacity to stay fully engaged.

- Cause you to miss vital information
- Lead to feelings of guilt or regret for not paying full attention

Recognizing this pattern is the first step toward addressing it.

Strategies to Improve Focus and Reduce Distraction

While it's natural for thoughts to wander, there are practical ways to enhance focus during conversations and minimize internal distractions.

1. Practice Mindfulness
